

Complimentary Pump Online Course Overview

Lasting about 90 minutes, the live training will be held in English language, delivered online using MS Teams. The live training will cover pump components such as bearings, couplings, and seals, as well as lube oil modules and seal supply systems, brought to you in an entertaining interactive webinar. The live training date will be confirmed on a later date.

This live training will introduce you to Sulzer's portfolio, which can be tailored to your business needs. You will stand the chance to hear from Sulzer experts on:

- The latest technology concerning pumps, auxiliaries, maintenance and operation directly from Sulzer
- Understanding the theoretical principles of centrifugal pumps, pump operations and get an insight into many of the design and operational principles that go into the specification and construction of these pumps
- Discovering the fascinating field of pump hydraulics and gain experience on how to read a pump performance curve
- Receiving practical insights into safe operation and effective maintenance of the equipment including its associated support systems
